Membership and Bond Drive To Be Undertaken Shortly by the Daytona Golf Club

New Rate Is Set for Tourists for Balance of Season

Great impetus was given the Daytona Golf and Country club recently at a meeting of the officials, and directors of the club, when a number of changes were made in the regulations, and plans made for boosting the local golf club immediately.

It was decided that a special tourist rate of membership of $25, good for all privileges of full membership, would be given from the present date, to April 5th, or a rate of $15 per month. This new ruling will be in effect only this year, to be discontinued April 5th.

It was also decided to pay all interest on outstanding bonds up to date, and all stockholders of the company are requested to present their coupons to the Merchants bank at once, where they will be paid up to Feb. 1st. There are a large number of coupons out, which the officers desire to pay up.

It was also voted that all members of the Daytona Golf and Country club, who had become members prior to Jan. 1, 1921, will be charter members of the organization.

Open All Summer.

It is also announced that the nine-hole course will be kept open the entire summer, when play may be indulged in by summer residents of the Triple Cities, a feature of the course much appreciated by those members who spend the summer months here.

A campaign for new members, and for the sale of the remainder of the unsold bonds will be undertaken directly by Col. E. P. Woodbury, M. P. Cornwall and S. C. Archibald being appointed chairmen of committees in charge of the campaign, by which it is hoped that the membership list may be swelled considerably, and the entire amount of the bond issue taken.

The following have been voted membership in the club recently: H. B. Schuitje, J. N. Pedcock, W. J. Gamble, H. H. Lowe, David G. Lergett, David Sholtz, P. E. Bissard and Robert W. Simms, of Jacksonville.

A letter was received today from the vice president of the Manufacturers' Record stating that Richard H. Edmunds, president, was taking bonds in the club to the amount of $500. H. S. Holmes of Daytona Beach, has also increased his subscription to bonds.

New life has been injected into the organization since the booster meeting of the hotel men and Chamber of Commerce, of last week, and it is believed now that the course has been complete for play, the finances and membership of the local club will both show a handsome growth.

The Daytona Golf and Country Club was organized a year ago last summer, and a nine-hole course constructed in a year, against almost superhuman handicaps which the officials had to overcome. The course has been pronounced the most beautiful in the South, by experts who have visited them all, and high praise is given those who have worked so industriously in making the course the finest in Florida.

The officers of the Daytona Golf and Country Club are: President, C. H. Knappe; vice-president, H. L. Pence; secretary, J. L. Pepper, and treasurer, Fred N. Conrad.

Miss Anne Morgan's boxing enterprise seems to have made a fortune of fistcuffs.

AN IRRITATING CUSOM

Over in England where women are pretty well advanced in suffrage they have become tired of being referred to as the "weaker sex" and the "fair sex," and they have held a meeting about it.

Perhaps American women when they come to think on it, will espouse similar views.

The Women's Freedom League, of which Margaret Hodge is councillor, has taboed the use of "fair sex" and "weaker sex" in reference to women.

The league has also set down as first principles that woman's judgment is as good as man's, that women talk less than men, and that women can keep secrets.

"One irritating custom comes down from an age when to be fair was woman's first and foremost duty," Miss Hodge says, "and the only women who counted were for ornament. Women may be the weaker sex physically, but not morally."

Most men will admit that woman's judgment, too, is as good as man's, and that's why husbands so often confer with their wives in business matters.

That women talk less than men—and more to the point when they do talk—is hardly open to argument.

When pressed women can "keep in seven languages."

As for keeping secrets, that they do not is a comic paper joke, and men on both sides of the ocean know that wild horses cannot drag a secret from a woman if she cares to keep it.

There are cases on record where a woman has kept a secret for 100 years.

MOON FARMING

Farming dates back to a time long before there were calendars. Priests and monks were the few people who possessed much education. They devoted a great deal of their time to the study of astronomy and possessed a fair knowledge of the subject.

Farmers came to these men for advice in their soil operations. When they wanted to plant corn or wheat or whatever the crop might be, the only definite guides the monks could give them were to plant during the varying moon stages. The moon was the farmer's calendar.

When the modern calendar was introduced it was used by townspeople. Many farmers still use the "moon signs." The custom has been handed down from one generation to another and is still in use.

Original purposes of the signs of the moon were in time forgotten or misinterpreted and the farmers began to ascribe to the moon supernatural powers.

It was in this way that the more recent generations accepted the moon doctrine and still cling to it in the present day.

From planting crops the doctrine spread to the slaughter of animals, shearing of sheep, cutting and pulling of the teeth of domestic animals and even to the setting of fence posts.

It is not often that a merchant can seize an opportunity such as this. Such opportunities are rare. After the Armistice, the rate of exchange prohibited the exportation of certain fine types of leaf tobacco. We purchased this tobacco and are using it in the manufacture of "111" (ONE-ELEVEN) CIGARETTES, producing a new product—a quality product—and one that is giving exceptional satisfaction, for these types of tobacco have never previously been used in the manufacture of cigarettes selling in this country.

A B C OF SUCCESS

A—"There is no fear of my starving, father," said the deaf boy, Kitto, begging to be taken from the poor house and allowed to struggle for an education; "we are in the midst of plenty, and I know how to prevent hunger."

"The Hottentots subsist a long time on nothing but a little gum; they also, when hungry, tie a ligature around their bodies."

"Cannot I do so, too?"
"The hedges furnish blackberries and nuts, and the fields, turnips; a hayrick will make an excellent bed."

This deaf boy with a drunken father, who was thought capable of nothing better than making shoes, as a pauper, became one of the greatest biblical authors and scholars in the world.

His first book was written in the workhouse.

B—"Let me say in regard to your adverse worldly circumstances," exclaimed Dr. Talmadge to a class of young men, "that you are on a level now with those who are finally to succeed."

"Mark my words, and think of it 30 years from now."

"You will find that those who, 30 years from now, are the millionaires of the country, who are the orators of the country, who are the poets and writers of the country, who are the strong merchants and bankers and lawyers and doctors of the country, who are the great philanthropists of the country—mightiest in church and state—are now on a level with you, not an inch above you, and in straightened circumstances now."

C—Elihu Burritt said the proudest moment of his life was when he first gained the full meaning of the first 15 lines of Homer's Iliad.

His father died when he was 16, and Elihu was apprenticed to a blacksmith in his native village of New Britain, Conn.

He worked at the forge 10 or 12 hours a day; but while blowing the bellows, he would solve mentally difficult problems in arithmetic.

In a diary kept at Worcester, whither he went some ten years later, are such entries as these:

"Monday, June 18, headache, 40 pages Cuvier's 'Theory of the Earth,' 4 pages French, 11 hours' forging.

"Tuesday, June 19, 60 lines Hebrew, 30 Danish, 10 Bohemian, 9 Polish, 15 names of stars, 10 hours' forging."

"Wednesday, June 20, 25 lines Hebrew, 8 lines Syriac, 11 hours' forging."

Burritt mastered 18 languages and 32 dialects and ten years later became president of Westmore college.

PROFIT FROM PAIN

Perhaps after all the unpleasant things may have their value and that value may sometimes be greater than the good that comes quite sugar-coated.

Anyway—
It is odd that after Milton quarreled with his wife he should have written about hell and the fall of man through woman's disregard of law so brilliantly that "Paradise Lost" is the one great poem in English, while "Paradise Regained" is a dull and prosy almost mediocre thing.

Or that Samuel Butler, intellectual youth, with a clerical father, who made his early life a burden, should have made his chief bid for lasting fame with "The Way of All Flesh," a biting satire on the English established church.

And, too—Anatole France found the inspiration for "The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard," the book which won the French academy prize, in the boorish, vulgar behavior of a drunken uncle whose lascivious tales of adventures in the Napoleonic wars made France's mother blush for shame in her own house.

There was Montaigne, who suffered terrible pain from a chronic disease most of his life and who in the intervals of agony wrote scores of moral essays, the best of which deal with pain and death.

There are no more wonderful love letters in the world than those of Abelard and Heloise, whose lives were spent almost fully in abject sorrow and misery.

There are hundreds more—Maybe, there's a way to make capital from suffering, profit from pain and to turn troubles to the other fellow's advantage if not to your own.

But just straight goods as you've shot from the start;

MY DEAR Maud,

THEN I'll say that,

OR IF you want,

THAT I should say,

MY INMOST heart,

FINDS GREATER worth,

IN LITTLE Old New York.

I'LL SAY it does,

FOR AFTER all,

I ASK you, Maud,

League of Nations Question Ably Debated at Meeting of Forum Before Large Audience

By R. Gordon Moffatt

The most enjoyable, largest attended and most instructive Community Forum meeting of the present winter season was held Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium when the main feature of the program was a debate on the League of Nations, a contentious question which carries intense interest to everyone, no matter what the political faith or personal belief might be.

The afternoon program was opened with community singing, led by Director James Heaton, followed by a most delightful concert on the harp by Miss Dorothy Bell, an accomplished harpist of exceptional ability, who showed extraordinary knowledge of the technique of the instrument, in her delicate handling of difficult rondo-lions.

President R. S. Holmes of the Florida Assembly and Forum, acted as chairman of the debate, announcing the speakers as they appeared. Those taking part in a discussion of the question were: Dr. D. S. Scadeng and Prof. Rupert Longstreet for the affirmative, and Dr. D. H. Ratter and M. T.
 Stokes for the negative. Each of the speakers showed exceptional insight into this momentous question, the arguments which they laid before their hearers giving a clear vision of the question from every viewpoint.

Dr. Scadeng Opened Discussion Rev. D. Stratford Scadeng opened the debate by stating that he would submit his part of the case for the League of Nations, under three heads. First, "The General Purpose of the League, combining with this a general statement of the futility of the hope of some, that the United States could at this hour take the lead in proposing another league with any hope of a following. Second, he would show the league as a vital, active and functioning organization, having accomplished much of which it should be proud, and achieved results momentous to the peace of the world, and, third, the most important of all, he would refer to the new light which had been thrown upon the covering during the recent deliberations of the assembly in Geneva. Briefly, the purpose of the league was stated to be, in part, the language of President Wilson in his speech of May 27, 1916: "To guarantee to every people the right to choose the sovereignty under which they shall live.
 To guarantee to every small nation the same respect for their sovereignty and territorial integrity as the large nation enjoys. To bring to the world a state in which it shall be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression and disregard of the rights of peoples and nations. To promote international co-operation and to secure international peace. In a word, the supreme object of the league is international justice. Peace derived from any other source is neither obtainable nor desirable."

As to the United States taking the lead in promoting (some other and different instrument than the existing league, the speaker declared that so far as Europe is concerned this country has forfeited her leadership and lost all the influence she gained by her splendid achievements during the war. There is no need of a new league. The recent gatherings have proved it to be an association of responsible men, more desirous of the common good than of any private advantage. They have arrived at a wide and strong basis of agreement and have made a beginning of erecting thereon a superstructure of strength and value. It has been handled but not destroyed by the non-membership of the United States, and when opponents cry "It is dead," the truth is diametrically opposed to the truth. Under the head of things accomplished, the speaker mentioned the following among others. Its honorable and triumphant survival of a first stormy session in face of a criticism, deadly scorn and bitter indifference is in itself an accomplishment of no mean proportions. The more fact that representatives of 42 nations have gathered together and discussed international problems amiably is a wonderful forward stride.

 Standing committees have been organized for consideration of matters of economic and financial importance; transport and communications and health, including a fight against international exploitation of opium and international traffic in women and girls. It has fought the typhus epidemic in Poland; strangled secret treaties; ratified an international labor office; settled the Aaland Island dispute and that between Poland and Lithuania over Vilna; is administering the Saar Valley, the government of Dantzig and other similar matters in which they vitally and directly effect sixteen million souls; it has registered and published between 50 and 60 international treaties.

Light on Article 10

Under new light the speaker dealt with the re-interpretation of Article 10, both as to the matter of guarantees of territorial integrity and of military aid; the repudiation by the league of the other imaginary obligation to enter upon an economic boycott automatically and at indefinite future times; the fact that amendments to the league as well as important decisions must be ratified by a unanimous vote of the members of the council and a majority vote of the members of the Assembly, not of the representatives of the members, but of the member nations themselves. He emphasized also the fact that under Article 19, which places upon the assembly the privilege of advising the reconsideration by the members of the league of any treaty which may have become inapplicable, and the consideration of international conditions, the continuance of which might endanger the peace of the world, thus avoiding rigidity in the final settlements, and recognizing the desirability of changed or changing conditions. He further stated that in many respects the league would seem to be an extension of the idea of a conference of ambassadors, and closed by throwing new light on the vexed question of the onerous superstate theory, and the argument against the league on the question of limitation of sovereignty.

Mr. Stokes followed Dr. Scadeng as the first to speak in the negative of the question, saying that the first and foremost reason why the League of Nations, as presented, should not be accepted by the United States is that the American people, by the most as-ounding majority ever recorded in the history of the nation at the election of November 2, had declared that they did not want it, and at that time both President Wilson and Governor Cox, the Democratic candidate, had insisted that this should be the issue and that it had been squarely met in the campaign, with the decision well known.

"Distance Lends Enchantment" He made use of the homely proverb, "Distance Lends Enchantment," calling attention to the fact that during the century of the country's existence, when we had followed the advice of Washington and Jefferson and kept aloof from entangling foreign alliances, all of the nations of the world had shown us respect and when we had really spoken they had given heed.
 He called particular attention to Secretary of State Olney's note to England in the Venezuelan matter and the positions of Hay and Knox in the controversies between Germany, Japan and China.

He then took up the difference in the conditions after the war, and after we had become very familiar with our Allies, claiming that familiarity had bred contempt. He said the first thing President Wilson found, when he sat down to the peace table, at a cost of ten million dollars, was that there had been a secret arrangement between the other great powers—our Allies—by which Japan was to have Shantung, the heart of China, and that while President Wilson protested and insisted that it should not be, no attention was paid to him and the most diabolical national disgrace in the history of our country still stands.

He quoted the passage from Edmond Burke, taking the position that "no men can act in concert successfully to accomplish any purpose except they are bound together by common opinions, common affections and common interests."

48 Nations with no Common Interests

He then called attention to the fact that in this league there are already 48 nations, representing almost every race and color, with many religions, including Buddhists, Confusions, Mohammedans, Greeks and many others, that have nothing whatever in common with either in thoughts, affections or interests with this country; that before the war exactly the same things were said for The Hague as are now being said for the league, and that it worked all right as long as there was peace, but as soon as one nation wanted to go to war it amounted to nothing.

Also, that in spite of the fact that the present league has already been functioning for a year or more, there are 29 wars waging today, more or less furiously, and he asked: "What could the United States do to stop them if it were to join the league?" He declared there was every reason why we should not be in the league and none why we should.

Prof. Longstreet followed for the affirmative, saying, in part: My colleague has shown you that the first and overwhelming reason why the United States should join the League of Nations is that the league is the only presently feasible association of nations which has for its object the outlawing of war, and that it is absurd to suppose that the United States, though with the combined brains of a Harding, a Reed and a Smoot, can form another at this time. He has shown you that the recent light on the league, due to the documents at its first congress at Geneva, has removed forever the foggy objections of overzealous patriots and nationalists.

United States Needed in League
 The affirmative clinched the argument with these two additional considerations. The fourth great reason for joining the league: "We are needed. We are needed in the great cause of peace, and reconstruction just as we were needed in the dark days of 1917 and 1918. The American people must face the disgraceful fact that little real progress has been made towards European restoration, and that ruin still stalks in plain sight at most of our recent Allies; and the further fact that little progress can be made without our active help. No one can predict the exact nature of the catastrophe now rushing on Europe, but a catastrophe is inevitable and not far away, unless we bring to Europe our financial support and the irresistible leadership which that support insures. If there were no other reason for joining the league than that we can help in the reconstruction of Europe and avert the catastrophe of a general breakdown there, we should join. From European shores comes a Macedonian call, "Come over and help us." We are needed over there. In the league we can supply that need as we can in no other way. It only as an appeal to American idealism and unselfishness, this is a sufficient reason. We must join.

But lastly, there is one more convincing reason for our joining, it will go hard with us nationally if we do not. Our own best interests in every way will be best protected by joining. If Europe goes bankrupt or turns Bolshevik, what will become of the ten billions of dollars we loaned during the war? If Europe goes bankrupt or turns Bolshevik, what will become of our foreign trade that in 1919 amounted to ten billion more dollars?

 It is to our interests to join, because in the league we can save billions in armament. A capital ship costs thirty millions. Out of the league we must have a huge navy. In the league, general disarmament is possible and inevitable. And, finally, if we stay out of the league and get into a dispute with any other nation in the league (and they are all in save our companions, bloody Russia, dishonored Germany and unspeakable Turkey, and Mexico) we must submit our case to arbitration or inquiry by the council, just as though we were in.
 And our cause will be prejudiced by the fact that we were too selfish to enter the concert of nations. But, worse and most threatening of all, if we refuse to abide by the decision rendered in our dispute, and essay to go to war with Great Britain or Japan, or whatever member nation, we shall bring down upon our heads the economic boycott and the military and naval force of the entire civilized world, which composes the present league. The United States cannot afford to stay out.

"We must join the League of Nations"

Dr. D. H. Ratter, the closing speaker for the negative, said, in part:
 The Hon. Thomas Watson in Georgia, a strong Democratic state, easily won the election to the Senate on the slogan, "Eternally opposed to any League of Nations." Similar examples might be taken from all over this nation of the league's unpopularity.

A Heathen League

Dr. Ratter said: "I am conscientiously and unalterably opposed to this league for the following reasons: "1. It is a heathen league. That is many heathen nations are now members of the league. There are 811-425,500 people in the league from dark countries, while but 289,428,900 are from white countries."

"At Nagpur, India, February 1, Dr.
 Ansar, the president of the All India Moslem League, said:
 "There is a divine injunction to Musselmans to practice non-operation against the opponents of Islam. This means that the Mohammedan will betray the non-Moslem members of the league. Israel's downfall was due solely to her ungodly alliances. America should take warning. 'Ye ye not mequally yoked, together with unbel-ievers,' is the command of God."

Failed to Open with Prayer

"This nation, as a nation, never offered a prayer when President Wilson left for Europe on his important mission."
 "American ministers of the gospel then in France made a written request that the peace conference be opened with some form of Divine service for God's guidance. This was refused on the ground that there was no time.

 "2. The league is unjust: It began by being unjust.
 "Article 10 undertakes to respect and preserve territorial integrity, etc.
 The staggering crime at its inception was the steel of the Shantung district of China by the Japanese.
 "This is the heart of China, one of our faithful allies. The district contains 37,000,000 people. Italy was permitted to take Fiume, a section that by no stretch of imagination belonged to her. Each nation has one vote; Hedjaz, with a population of about 200,000, and the United States with a population of 105 millions.
 "Article 10 Means Fight "England controls five votes. Grossly absurd is it to argue otherwise.
 Article 10 means fight at the behest of the League of Nations.
 "If we were in, could we on honor do otherwise than fight, if all other members voted thus?
 "I am bitterly opposed to the Stars and Stripes ever being subservient to any power or combination of powers.
 "3. Conditions obtain which must be changed, war or no war. Egypt will aspire to freedom; Africa will cease to be dominated and pilfered by other nations, and India will yet be a nation. Japan must cease robbing Shantung and Korea; these nations, by every right under God, deserve to run their own national affairs.
 "England knows that the league is a failure. In the Literary Digest by January 5 a notice appeared stating that many official and unofficial observers in London predict that at the imperial conference of representatives of the British empire, to be held in London in the spring, agreements will be reached on the English speaking peoples of the world against oriental overhauls.
 Audience Also Debates
 Dr. Scadeng was then given five minutes for rebuttal, bringing out several new points and rebutting, according to the views of the affirmative, statements made for the negative. At the conclusion of the debate proper a number of the audience gave short three minute statements of their views on the question, closing what was pronounced by the audience, which filled the Auditorium, the most successful Forum meeting in the season.
 The Auditorium management is to be congratulated for the happy idea of bringing the question before the people in the manner in which they did and in their collection of fine, such interesting and efficient debaters.

Several persons were killed by eating preserved spinach in a Grand Rap-id's hospital. Well, if they had to eat it, they picked a good spot for it.

Zane Grey's Film Story, Desert Gold, Be Shown Tonight

One of the most attractive pictures to be shown in the Triple Cities this winter is the one that is shown tonight at the Auditorium; it is Zane Grey's "Desert Gold."

The ever fascinating and mysterious desert furnishes the scene for this story of the Mexican border. The story opens with a prologue in which two men, lost in the desert, discover gold just at the time when, overcome by weakness and thirst, they can go no farther. The rest of the story dealing with people intimately related to these two, describes a recent uprising along the border, and ends with the finding of the hoard of gold which the two early prospectors, dying, had willed to the girl, who is the heroine.
 The story is full of stirring and dramatic incident; there are battles with Mexicans and long, weary journeys across the desert, starvation and misery add to the tragic side, and a few merry cowboys contribute much humor and no little heroism.

PRINCE GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Townsend of Asbury Park, N. J., are at the Prince George, where they will spend several days. Mr. Townsend is the owner and manager of the Albion hotel in Asbury Park, and he and Mrs. Townsend are old time friends of Messrs. W. W. Hilyard, Sr. and W. W. Hilyard, Jr. The latter gentlemen are the owners of the Hotel Bristol in Asbury Park, and they and Mr. Townsend are business as well as personal friends. The Albion hotel is thoroughly modern and first class in every way.

The Hotel Bristol, owned and managed by the Messrs. Hilyard, occupies one of the finest locations on the New Jersey coast and is situated directly on the beach at the foot of Fourth avenue, one of the finest of the beautiful boulevards for which Asbury Park is noted, and overlooks the ocean drive-way, famous promenade, and the ever fascinating Atlantic. The Hotel Bristol is modernly appointed, first class and progressive. Messrs. Hilyard recently erected the main part of the building and within two years after the completion of this building the popularity and patronage of the hotel made it necessary to double its capacity, and during the past winter the capacity of this hotel has been again enlarged by the addition of a hundred more rooms. Many of the summer guests of the Bristol are winter guests at the Prince George for the same high standard of service is maintained in the two hotels under this management.

R. McCullough of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles and Andrew Sehermeister, also of Brooklyn, are spending a few days at the Despland. They are on their way to the more southern resorts, but have found Daytona so pleasant that they are lingering here for a time.

Mrs. Yvonne Stottmeister of New York is spending a few days at the Despland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cunningham, who have been spending some time in the Indian river section, arrived at the Despland Friday and will be there for the balance of their stay in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson, Miss Martha Grotherton and Miss Mabel Martin formed a pleasant motor party from Jacksonville. They spent a few days in Daytona when they were guests at the Despland.

P. L. Johnson and A. Y. Alexander of St. Petersburg, N. Y., are spending a few days enjoying the pleasure of the Triple Cities and are comfortably domiciled at the Despland.

G. N. Dransky of Fort Pierce spent Friday night at the Despland.

COLLEGE ARMS

DELAND, Feb. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Powell of Birmingham, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Ben Jamin of Montclair, N. J., arrived yesterday for a few days' stay here. They are friends of Dr. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Logan of Jacksonville and Mr. G. H. C. Stewart of Glasgow were overnight guests here, stopping off on their return to Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Lawrence and Mrs. Bickel of Daytona motored over for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morrison of Beaver, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harrison of Pittsburgh motored over from the coast for the day.

Golf Notes

Despite the heavy shower early this morning there were a good many golfers out on the course swinging away at the golf. The College Arms course is in fine condition as the porous nature of the soil drains up a heavy rainfall, and inside of an hour one would hardly know that there had been a rain. Sandy soil excellently drained is the reason for this.

Entry list of the big St. Valentine's tournament will be opened today. At least four divisions of sixteen are expected among the men.

Handsome Prizes

Handsome silver prizes given by the hotel to the winners in the January tournament are on display. Beautifully designed chalices, vases and medals to the division winners and to Mr. A. Ward Ford a handsome cup.

HOTEL CLARENDON

Mr. and Mrs. Cranford Jackson and Oscar Wells, of Birmingham, Ala., were at the Hotel Clarendon for two days last week.

Mrs. T. Hare and two sons, Tom and Jack, and Mrs. K. B. McClaren, of Toronto, are at the Hotel Clarendon. They arrived on Friday and will remain for several days enjoying the beauties of Seabreeze and the wonderful beach.

WILBUR-BY-THE-SEA

The younger set held away at the weekly entertainment of the W. I. S. H. at the Toronita clubhouse last Friday evening. The committee on entertainment comprised the Misses Bissell, Sprout and Wilbur and Mrs. Thompson assisted by Bradford Sprout who has recently come into the colony and who made a very successful interlucator for the occasion. His introductions to the audience of the various events were sprightly and witty and lent much to the success of the evening. In the contest for correct answers of the names of pictured advertisements, A. P. Gilman captured the first prize.

Seeing who could walk on a chalk line looking through the large end of a pair of binoculars with the small end directed at ones feet, was easily won by Mrs. Zink, it was expected at one time that assistance would have to be rendered to several gentlemen who tried the stunt, as it seemed possible the requirements of the 15th constitutional amendment were being disobeyed. In the fancy dressing contest in which Mrs. W. P. Cobb with A. E. Cram as a partner and Mrs. W. D. Wheeler and A. H. Landry as her associate, it looked an easy matter for the first couple to win as the latter gentleman had considerable difficulty in adjusting parts of his new apparel but the old cobbler of the hare and the tortoise came to play and Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. Landry came in easy winners, receiving applause from the audience on their leading in the difficult contest, both being recipients of handsome dress-suit cases as prizes. The last of the entertainment, numbers was a good snappy Virginia Reel which all enjoyed the leader of the reel was a scion of a very old Daytona, O. family who has a reputation, to his home town as a realist and is always called on to lead the reel when it is in order. The affair closed with the serving of a lunch and all went home well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

REDS BUILDING AN AIRSHIP WHICH WILL CARRY 1,000 PEOPLE

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.) MOSCOW, Feb. 6.—An airship that can carry 1000 passengers is being built by the Russian engineer Maklona, inventor of the electric train. It will make its trial flight at Moscow May 1.

The Soviet government is backing the airship financially.

"My new plane," says Maklona, "will carry 1000 passengers or 60,000 pounds of freight—about 967 tons. Its top speed will be 60 miles an hour. The motors will be 24,000 horse-power. It will have several berth decks, connected by elevator. An automobile, an airplane and a motorboat will be carried for emergency."

Russia built the world's first giant flying machine—the Sikorsky biplane. The biggest German airship built during the war had a lift of 45 tons and a speed of 75 miles an hour.

England's latest ship, the R-50, can lift only 35 tons. It travels 65 miles an hour.

SLOW MONEY IN COTTON STATES BRINGS FORTH CHARACTERISTIC NOTE

(The Associated Press.) RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 7.—On account of the low prices that have been paid for tobacco and cotton this season, many southern farmers have experienced great difficulty in meeting their obligations.

As reflected the plight of one planter, former Governor Richard L. Manning, of South Carolina, at a meeting of tobacco and cotton growers here recently, read the following letter which, he said, was sent to a South Carolina fertilizer company.

"I received your letter about what I owe you. Now is payment, I can't forget you, and soon as folks pay me, I'll pay you, but if this was judgment day and you no more prepared to meet your God than I am to meet your account, then you sho' going to hell."

UNCLE SAM, M. D., SAYS WORK OVER DROWNED FOR 4 HOURS

By U. S. Public Health Service

In reviving a person who has been submerged in water, the aim is to restore the respiration and stimulate the action of the heart. The first thing to do is to bring the rescued person's body entirely out of water, and remove the mud, water, sand, etc., from the mouth with a handkerchief or the fingers. Wipe the mouth and nostrils dry, turn the face toward the wind if any is blowing, rip the clothing so as to expose the chest and give it several quick, smarting slaps with the open hand, to try to make the patient gasp.

If the patient does not revive, he should immediately be turned on his face and then raised by the middle and placed across the knee of the rescuer, and his tongue drawn out and held. He should be kept in this position for a short time in order to allow the water to flow out of his throat and lungs. Next, lay the patient on his belly, turning his head to one side, pull out the tongue by passing a finger to the back of it, and, if anyone else is present, have him hold it, or, if the rescuer is alone, tie it in this position by passing a cloth around the tongue and under the chin, thence to the back of the neck where it should be tied, and start artificial respiration.

As soon as the patient begins to breathe of his own accord, but not before, the arms and legs should be rubbed toward the heart, to help restore the circulation. The wet clothing should be removed and the patient rubbed dry and wrapped in a dry blanket as soon as possible, but if the rescuer is alone, nothing should be done until respiration has been started.

When the patient can swallow, give him stimulants and hot drinks in small quantities at a time. It may happen that after respiration has been restored the patient may suddenly stop breathing. For this reason the patient should be watched, and, if this occurs, artificial respiration should be resumed immediately.

If necessary artificial respiration should be continued for as long as four hours, or until the rescuer is exhausted.

M'MILLAN FINISHES SHIP FOR DASH TO NORTH POLE SOON

(The Associated Press.)

EAST BORTHAY, Me., Feb. 7.—Work is almost completed on the hull of the Bowdoin in which Dr. Donald B. MacMillan, explorer, will make his next dash into the Arctic regions. The launching of the schooner will take place in the early spring and the vessel will be in shape to depart from this port by May 1.

Mr. MacMillan is perfecting plans for an expedition to begin next summer, which will include an attempt to circumnavigate Raftin Land and penetrate its western coast, 1,000 miles in length, said to be the longest stretch of unknown coast line in the world. He is a frequent visitor here and keeps careful watch over the construction of his ship.

The Bowdoin, which is being built on the sturdy lines needed in an exploration vessel to withstand the ice grind, is of the hook-nose fishing schooner type. It will be 88 feet in length, over all, 29 feet wide and equipped with 45-horsepower oil burning engines. Three-inch oak plank material is being used for the hull.

Before his departure for the far north Dr. MacMillan will make an exhibition cruise along the coast during May and June. About July 1, with a party of six men, the explorer will sail from Boston for the polar regions.

Under favorable weather conditions, The Bowdoin should reach Fury and Hecla Strait early in September. There the ship will be frozen in.

Leaving their vessel under a long guard the party will push forward on a 200 miles trip on sleds drawn by dogs. Five Eskimo dog drivers will accompany the MacMillan outfit across

LEW TENDLER AND BENNY LEONARD TO BE MATCHED SOON

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Tex Rickard plans to stage a battle for the world lightweight championship between Lew Tandler and Benny Leonard during the coming summer. It became known today. He is now completing arrangements for the erection of a huge outdoor arena in or near New York and if plans do not miscarry, Leonard and Tandler will be signed to fight 15 rounds to ad action for the biggest purse ever hung up for a lightweight battle. In case Rickard decides to stage the Dempsey-Carpenter match here July 2, it is possible the Leonard-Tandler scraps will be on Memorial Day.

The rugged, ice bound country which abounds in perils. Establishing of a camp 700 miles south of Etah in the northwestern part of Greenland, is one of the main objectives.

Within the last 12 years, Dr. MacMillan has made six trips into the land of the midnight sun. Most famous of these was his expedition by which he disproved the theory that a Croker Land existed in the extreme north. At that time he discovered nine new islands.

On his visits here, Dr. MacMillan chats freely about his plans and several hardy mariners have begged to be allowed to accompany him. The Bowdoin is now preparing to present a flag, to fly from the fore peak of the Bowdoin.

Prices Have Reached
A
Resting Place

We have had one of our head men in New York for over six weeks buying specials for Florida stores. Business has commenced so strong in Palm Beach and West Palm Beach that he has been recalled to help out. The most noteworthy part of his visit was to see the change in prices during January, also the gradual decline in quantity of manufacturers' stock on hand. (In the middle of January we could get silk hose in any quantity, now it takes ten days to two weeks to get delivery.) Prices are now stable and on the increase. The downward price slide has stopped. Any future reduction will be step by step. We are thankful a stable price level has been reached.

LATEST NEWS OFF THE TICKER FROM NEW YORK MARKET

(Dow Jones Service.)

Lloyd George advises Germany to accept the allied indemnity plan, hints that it is not trying to stabilize exchanges and points out that the German people are not now taxed as much as British and French.

The New York World says President-elect Harding has selected An-Local bankers are planning to assist in the rehabilitation of Mexican finance with the First National Bank of New York offering to establish branches in the republic under the new banking laws now in course of formation, according to a Mexico City dispatch to the New York Tribune.

Thomson & McKinnon's stock letter today says: "Gov. Harding of the federal reserve has again been heard from and delivered another encouraging message. American business. He was a pessimist for a long time and he was not afraid to say so. He is an optimist now and is not afraid to say so and there can be little doubt but that he is right that we are on the road to improvement, but this does not mean that we have been cured of all our ills. The fact of the matter is that there are probably many corporations who are in the same position as the E. S. Rubber Co., showing in their recent statement that they have had a prosperous business so far as profits are concerned, but they owe today nearly $50,000,000 on notes compared with $2,000,000 last year. This is one of the items in a long list that has created the tight money situation, and this is one of the reasons why we may expect quite a lot of irregularity for a little while in the stock market."
